Chapter 501: The Creation of Tofu

The defeated Allie and Jenny both froze. They looked at Liliana's back and felt like they could see her sneering. Unwillingness, anger, humiliation; they felt a tangle of emotions. Even though they didn't care about being number one, but no one liked to lose, especially when it came to their charm. They couldn't accept this!

Allie was trembling from head to toe. Next time! Next time I will definitely prepare better!

Jenny turned away sadly. Seeing Ye Cang's happy expression as he applauded Liliana, she bit her lips. Next time, I'll make you clap for me! This chance is already gone. Hah...

Mar junior climbed onto the table, planning to survey Liliana's wardrobe malfunction, when he felt a chill down his spine. He quickly sat down and put on a righteous and stern expression.

Everyone watched as Liliana suddenly got up. Her ample peaks looked like they would jump out of her clothes at any time, but stopped before they could go too far. She smiled, "Actually, I'm not even wearing anything under..."

She put her hands on her hips and raised her chin proudly while being crowned by Ye Cang. "Our darling goddess is born! Liliana, I really didn't misjudge you..."

"It is all president's guidance." Liliana bowed. Everyone's eyes were glued to her collar while she bowed.

"You've all worked hard, go back and rest." Ye Cang said. Liliana, wearing her gorgeous laurel, strut her perky butt back to the goddess association. All the men watched with absent-minded and regretful expressions.

Allie frowned, staring at Liliana's back. Truly a formidable opponent, such deep schemes. She turned and returned to the cafe to continue her business.

Jenny reluctantly walked home.

“Truly a rarity.” Mar Junior muttered, then felt as if his crotch had been clamped. He looked at the smiling Aiki and immediately broke out in cold sweat.

“Not bad. President, in the future, you should hold more events like this that promote self-awareness and bodily health. This old man will be going back to water the plants.” Makarlo left satisfied. FrozenCloud and some others blushed with shame. That old lecher...

Thanks to this event, the goddess tea shop, goddess association, as well as the surrounding stores became very popular. Black Rock City and White Stone City even started a Top 10 Goddess craze. A large poster of Liliana hung outside the goddess association. Her enticing pose and ecstatic expression caused many people to log off. For a time, she became one of the two great elven beauties.

Ye Cang, CloudDragon, LordAsked, NalanPureSoul and ThornyRose were currently in a meeting on the second floor of the goddess association. As goddess association shareholders, they had the right to be there.

“Tomorrow’s battlefield, you should bring your people to participate. Of the factions, ours is actually a bit inferior.” ThornyRose knew that they had crossed the Black Peaks and even went to the southern Farsarqi.

CloudDragon also thought they same. Last time, he and NalanPureSoul had been assigned to the battle against the elven nation. Victory was inevitable. However, the battle against the Steel Empire had the number one player Flame Emperor, a guy that one shouldn’t easily provoke. Just relying on LordAsked, some trash guilds and the Flame Dragon Union traitors who were in Black Rock City just wasn’t enough! They needed another powerful and influential person to join the fray.

In the last battle against Flame Emperor, CloudDragon had already acknowledged Ye Cang's skill and potential, which were definitely not inferior to his own. Whichever battlefield Ye Cang gets assigned to would have their pressure significantly reduced. The inclusion of Really New Village's Three Brothers was a must. Especially HeavenShakingMight's auras, which were completely capable of turning the tides of battle.

Ye Cang agreed to participate. After that, the few of them discussed the construction and other matters with Little Ye Tian. Finally, the only one left was ThornyRose.

"The semi-finals are in another half a month. The Great Christmas War's quota will depend on the next match. Have you made your preparations?" ThornyRose slowly got up.

"What semi-finals?" Ye Cang looked confused.

Lin Le scratched his head, "Lele thinks it sounds familiar but not familiar."

"The club leagues." Zhang ZhengXiong reminded.

ThornyRose was about to go berserk. In the past month, besides handling things in the game, she had practically put all her effort to preparing for the league! Yet this bastard forgot!? He actually forgot!!?

Ye Cang saw that she was about to enter her 'can't even be stopped by meds' mode, and quickly stroked his chin and said, "I'm just joking with you. We've prepared long ago."

"Go, go go. Meal time, I'm so hungry." Ye Cang said while logging off.

When Ye Cang saw that Wu Na and FrozenCloud hadn't started to cook, he suggested they go to the night market to eat. The group arrived at the night market. When the night market's Old Wang saw Ye Cang from afar, he started frying up dishes. With Ye Cang's group's popularity these days, every few steps they took, there would be a few students screaming and asking for signatures. However, their fans remained very rational, because the crazy ones had all suffered same end.

When the food was finished, Ye Cang saw that Fang Tong was already recovered. He pet her head and looked at Fang Ci. “Her school, have you arranged it?”

Fang Ci smile bitterly. He hadn’t had time lately. Between the Commandments and the game, when would he have time for that? He shook his head.

“That’s fine. My relationship with the teacher is pretty good. Leave it to me.” Ye Cang said confidently. Wu Na facepalmed. He was probably going to threaten the home-room teacher again.

“Teacher, the performance has been set for next week. The dress rehearsal has been planned for the saturday. Nana, Lil’ Dino, you two should prepare too.” Zuo Yiyi had been busy arranging this performance. With Ye Cang’s referral, she became acquainted with Flasher Uncle and Panty Uncle. In these few days, she had ‘learned a lot’.

Ye Cang looked at the time. It was still 8 days away. He nodded and ate some of his favorite mapo tofu. Suddenly, he had a flash of divine insight. Looking at everyone, he said, “I thought of a recipe! Tofu! Lime Slime Gel and Wolf Dung Tofu. I’ll also experiment with other ingredients. I should be able to make my personal tofu recipe. Aren’t you all excited~~?”

Seeing the excited and rearing to go Ye Cang, their scalps felt numb and they shivered. They pretended not to hear anything and continued on with their conversations. Unlike the others, Little Fang Tong looked somewhat expectantly at Ye Cang, “Big Brother Lil’ White, when can I eat your cook...”

Before Little Fang Tong could finish the ‘ing’ at the end, she had her mouth covered by Fang Ci.

“No problem, no problem. Next time we go out to sea, we’ll bring you along. I’ll make my secret roast fish recipe for you...” Ye Cang slapped Fang Ci’s hand away unhappily, then pet Little Fang Tong’s head, showing her a grateful smile.

Even though the atmosphere had become solemn, Little Fang Tong still nodded her head vigorously. She smiled like an angel and said, “Yeah!”

Little Ye Tian looked at Little Fang Tong and sighed. The girls intelligence was traumatic. She reached out her chopsticks for a piece of brine chicken leg. Suddenly she felt a burst of pain on her head. A familiar and annoying voice spoke beside her, “Little Tian, this is mine. As the little sister, you should give the bigger one to your big brother. Hah, because you didn’t study seriously, you don’t even know the story of Kong Rang and the pear...”

Little Ye Tian trembled all over. Damn Lele! She saw Ye Cang give her a inquiring glance, “What is it, Little Tian...?”

“Nothing. Lele was telling me about Kong Rang and the Pear.” Little Ye Tian said calmly.

Chapter 502: Elven War

Lin Le's boasting manner made Little Ye Tian so angry that her teeth itched. She felt like she had been affected by a mental wave, but her mental defence was very strong. So hateful!

The next day, Ye Cang brought Zhang ZhengXiong to find their teacher. After some persuasion, they succeeded in having him handle Little Tong's entry procedures.

When the battle started, Ye Cang and the others entered the battlefield system, but they weren't sent to the battle against the Steel Kingdom. Instead, they were sent to a contested land on the edge of the enchanted forest to fight against the elves. NalanPureSoul was also sent to this battle. CloudDragon, LordAsked and ThornyRose were all sent to fight the Steel Empire.

"Yo, Brother PureSoul. What a coincidence..." Ye Cang saw the nearby NalanPureSoul and waved.

"Brother PaleSnow, this battle will be mainly against MistyVeil and Falling Star..." When NalanPureSoul mentioned Falling Star, he glanced at SpyingBlade.

"Don't look at me..." SpyingBlade shrugged.

"So it's Aunt Perky and little-sister-in-law." Ye Cang stroked his chin and nodded. "We can do whatever to Aunt Perky but we should be gentle with sister-in-law."

SpyingBlade was dumbfounded by the words 'little-sister-in-law'. Even though he called Ye Cang Team Leader, he was actually older than Ye Cang!

(Note: Little Brother's Wife... is there a word for that?)

Everyone looked at Ye Cang with strange expressions. Why did it seem like those words of his sounded a bit strange?

Ye Cang gathered all the wielders of the Giant Owl No. 2, 12 people in total, then organized a firing squad. NalanPureSoul assigned armies to Zhang ZhengXiong and the others, then they set off into the forest.

Entering the forest, Ye Cang's speed, attributes and all aspects increased, allowing him to scout ahead carefully. The rest of the rangers could only watch Ye Cang's speed. With each step, he travelled over ten meters between treetops, getting a bird's-eye-view.

Ye Cang summoned Little Blue Feather and let it investigate ahead. With Eagle Eyes, he saw who he suspected to be MistyVeil in the distance. She was bringing an archery squad up a hill, appearing to be setting up an ambush. In order to not get exposed, he quickly left and ordered Little Blue Feather to fly low over another area. Gongsun Qian was currently leading the forward forces. Cancelling Eagle Eyes, he had Little Blue Feather give warnings from above. He conveyed the approximate situation to NalanPureSoul.

The eagle eyes skill was really too fitting in this sort of battlefield. Knowing the enemy's intentions and you have a chance at victory. It was the same reasoning behind the saying 'know yourself, know your enemies, then even 100 battles aren't dangerous'. That's to say nothing of the fact that the forward team led by Zhang ZhengXiong, under the effects of his auras, had their fighting strength increased many times over.

"Brother PaleSnow, SpyingBlade, Lele, you all bring people to catch MistyVeil off guard. Leave the direct battle to me. As for the rest of the ambush points, sister, bring some people to take hold of them. Your priority is to kill the bow weilding classes. LooseCloud! LooseCloud! Loose Cloud!" NalanPureSoul began to deploy the troops, when he turned to see the dazed LooseCloud. He called out to him a few times but got no response.

NalanMoon backhand slapped him on the head. "The president is calling you."

LooseCloud cheered himself up but his forehead was still showing traces of suffering. He looked at Ye Cang with a resentful expression. Anyone who saw that scene wouldn't blame him for hating Brother Hero.

Ye Cang sensed that burning gaze and exposed a good-willed smile. He gave off a 'I have done a good deed, no need to thank me' feel.

"You're in charge of the south-east hill to snipe them, if they try to circle around. The moment anything happens, notify me immediately." NalanPureSoul sighed.

Little Ye Tian, with the help of Little Blue Feather's sight, had long since completed her map of this area. She stood up, "I believe MistyVeil will be on guard. Father, you can use the low terrain on the west side to circle around and launch a surprise attack. They won't be able to notice that place right away. President PureSoul, you can send some swordsmen and archers to set an ambush there as a trap. When another squad finds themselves in an unfavorable position, you can draw the enemy in there to counter-attack. The terrain there is like a gourd, easy to enter, hard to leave."

NalanPureSoul gladly accepted Little Ye Tian's proposals. She was someone who had defeated MistyVeil in strategy, a counter type strategist good at defending, counter-attacking and counter ambushing. She had an incredible grasp of the battlefield situation. NalanPureSoul directly appointed Little Ye Tian as the temporary head advisor and also having her help with deployment.

"The key to a surprise attack is speed. Things can change if we're late. Let's go." Ye Cang brought the firing squad, SpyingBlade, Lele as well as nearly a thousand fighters, mages and warlocks to form the surprise attack squad. Then began their unrelenting trek west.

Meanwhile, NalanPureSoul also brought his people towards the frontlines. Zhang ZhengXiong commandeered the army. He had his arms crossed while sitting on the back of a huge white toad, advancing one hop at a time. Even though it looked strange but those ground-shaking booms when it landed still made one's heart palpitate. Many people had been to the Dark Cave and been crushed by that toad to the point of near death many times.

NalanPureSoul pet his flaming bird - Little Cock and sighed. If by any chance this pet's name got out... he could only smile bitterly...

A scouting party had just ascended a hill when they heard some activity. They looked up to see a toad falling down, instantly smashing down on many people, followed by a water cannon bombardment. What shocked NalanPureSoul though was that the toad actually knew some fighting techniques. Its enormous hand struck out with very standard palm-strikes. On top of it, Zhang ZhengXiong hadn't even moved, around 20 scouts had been killed. Behind him, people started to cheer. What they didn't know was the suffering this little Toad had to endure. It had become a test subject for their forceful education. Every few days, it would be tied to an iron rod, slathered with slime gel and roasted by Ye Cang as punishment. It had been messed with to the point of its grey color becoming white. The worst was the food. Every time it thought of it, the poor little toad would tremble all over.

A white glimmer appeared on the little toad's palms. It casted a Recover and Healing Light on itself, leaving it completely unharmed.

Many priests broke out into cold sweat. The priests that couldn't even cast healing light were looked upon by their teammates with contempt. "Even Brother Diamond's toad knows Healing Light, yet you actually don't? Hah..."

Losing contact with the scouting party, Gongsun Qing knew that the battle was likely about to start. She gave orders to prepare, then turned to look at a concealed location to the west. The moment they clashed here, MistyVeil would give ranged support and cover from there, then the battle would be more or less set. All that remained would be some guerilla warfare. However, she felt a bad premonition in her heart. Really New Village's Three Brother had returned to Black Rock City, so them joining the war was inevitable but they weren't sure if it would be on the Steel Empire's side or here.

Hearing an eagle cry, MistyVeil looked up to see a blue eagle circling above their heads. A very familiar eagle. She recalled in a previous battle, the one where Ye Cang participated against Flame Emperor and defeated the steel empire, the blue eagle had appeared then. It's his pet!! He is in this battlefield! Not good! A surprise attack! It must be that little girl's plan!

Chapter 503: Caught Unprepared

MistyVeil was just about to give an order when the meadow's rocks began to dry strangely. Her heart sank as she decisively disappeared from the spot. A storm of light and fire just singed her hair. She saw Ye Cang crouching on a nearby tree trunk, smiling and waving at her.

"Kill the bad guys!!" Lin Le's angry voice rang out and she saw countless people being chopped in half. The tigerkin, Little Ren, went on a killing spree in the flames.

Ye Cang raised his guns at her and unleashed a flurry of shots. MistyVeil continuously evaded, stubbornly avoiding the bullets. This made Ye Cang pout. Not bad. I already saw her martial prowess from last time's club fight. She's extremely nimble.

MistyVeil saw that the surroundings had become a chaotic battle, completely without rhythm. She had to deal with that White Hair! A familiar chill chill made her suddenly turn and strike out with her spear.

"Clang!"

SpyingBlade's sword struck away the spear, then performed a combo which left behind afterimages. MistyVeil pulled her spear back and flipped back, flying back like a swallow. SpyingBlade activated a charge skill, pursuing her. Ye Cang looked around at the scattered Freedom alliance fighters, fighting all over the place.

"Team Leader, what do we do? If we shoot now, we might accidentally injure an ally." A blonde rich kid asked.

"It's fine. Everyone get ready! First, prepare a Converging Shot! Mages, prepare area attacks!" Ye Cang led the firing squad and raised his left hand's gun. "Fire!!"

"Next is Explosive Bullet!!"

"Everyone enter rapid fire mode!" Ye Cang commanded. Bullets and magic pelted the battlefield like rain, instantly killing a large amount of friendly and enemy forces.

“Make their sacrifices meaningful! Everyone continue attacking! Increase your firepower!!” Ye Cang led the firing squad to madly press their triggers with a calm smile. Soon after, he added in an imperceptible voice, “They’re Freedom Alliance people anyways.”

The firing squad were already drenched in cold sweat.

On the frontlines, the fight could begin at any moment. Gongsun Qian saw the flames burst from the high grounds. Not good! It’s them! She suddenly turned and saw a white toad fly over. Her brows rose. Brother Big Diamond - HeavenShakingMight... The toad must be his pet. YiFan must have gone with Brother Hero to snipe MistyVeil. She reached behind her and drew the two-handed sword on her back. “Front row get ready! Archers, in position! Fire!!”

At the very front Zhang ZhengXiong was still seated on his toad. Against the oncoming arrows, the little toad pushed out with its palm. A dozen meter large wall of water appeared. It made a fist with its webbed hand and the wall froze into a shield of ice. Many of the arrows coming at Zhang ZhengXiong were blocked. The little frog issued a shout, “Ribbet-ribbet,” and suddenly slapped towards the shield of ice. The ice immediately shattered, becoming countless ice arrows which shot out.

Zhang ZhengXiong slowly got up. Taking his heavy axe, he lowered his stance and took a deep breath. Like a dragon, he roared, “Chaaaarge!!!”

Countless fighters, knights, etc withstood the rain of arrows and under Zhang ZhengXiong’s encouragement, madly charged forwards.

The little toad also crouched, then suddenly jumped into the air. Everyone looked up to see the toad becoming smaller and smaller while going towards the sun.

NalanPureSoul's hands shined with fire. Brother PaleSnow has provided some fire, how can I not assist? He directly sacrificed his fire demon. His two eyes burned with flames and the sky started to rain fire. Reaching out his hand, he made a grabbing motion and all the fire immediately exploded!

A crack on the earth was directly created by NalanPureSoul's blast. Gongsun Qian saw NalanPureSoul, China's number one spellcaster player... Just how powerful he was under that delicate effeminate beauty, she knew very well. "Third squadron, assist MistyVeil! The rest of you charge! We can't allow them to pass!!"

A loud sound came from the frontlines. Zhang ZhengXiong's toad landed, causing the death of tens of people, even though half of them were from his own side. The battlefield was covered in a cloud of dust. Everyone stopped and watched as the dust slowly settled, revealing the giant toad and the demon god on its back.

Zhang ZhengXiong urged his little toad. Among the crowds of people, it leapt its way towards Gongsun Qian. A proud young man rode a land bird and charged head on with his lance. This person was the rookie - PrinceSong. He was very popular in the elven territories and a rare owner of a pet. His strength and equipment were both pretty good. Under the expectant gazes of the Hundred Flowers and Misty Rain girls, Zhang ZhengXiong sneered and met the lance head on, without dodging. He grabbed it directly with his hand and laughed evilly, "Interesting! But not good enough!!"

The little frog took advantage of this time to attack the land bird with its palm. There was a bird screech followed by puff of feathers. Zhang ZhengXiong lifted PrinceSong up by his lance. Unwilling to acknowledge this, PrinceSong continued to try to brandish and thrust his lance. Zhang ZhengXiong struck with a knee and then threw him into the air. A heavy axe cleaved PrinceSong's head, covering Zhang ZhengXiong in blood. He roared, "Fudge your mother! Who else wants to fight me!? Who else!! Roar!!"

Both sides were shaken by Zhang ZhengXiong's overwhelming and terrifying shout. Even Gongsun Qian and NalanPureSoul felt their hearts tremble.

NalanPureSoul smiled bitterly. This Zhang ZhengXiong was an existence that could scare a boss with his roar without even using a skill. He was just like a ferocious demon god, unlike Brother PaleSnow. Brother PaleSnow gave off a cold aura with his smile that hid his extremely vile character. As for Lele, he was a bit like Brother PaleSnow and also a little like Shaking Bear; he was fierce enough to be hard to resist, hot-headed in a way that one couldn't make sense of. Who knows whether he was scheming or simply impulsive.

Gongsun Qian watched as Zhang ZhengXiong jumped off the toad. He leisurely brought FrozenCloud and the elite attacking squad to the depths of their formation. The surrounding players, faced with Zhang ZhengXiong's demon god aura, all subconsciously choose to fight the others and avoided meeting him head on. It seems like this battle... no, she had to raise morale! But... how!?

Back with Ye Cang, MistyVeil narrowly escaped the fate of dying to SpyingBlade a few times. She laughed bitterly, recalling how she had been his stepping stone to debut. Zhao YiFang... This man that had made her completely fall head over heels. Extremely ordinary in appearance and aura, but with a heavenly king's viciousness! Thinking back to that time and how terrifying SpyingBlade was when he put on his mask, it was like he was a completely different person!

MistyVeil's spear forced back SpyingBlade. She glanced and saw Lin Le being held back by Yan'er's group. Besieged by five people, Lin Le was only at a tiny disadvantage. It couldn't even be considered a disadvantage, because the five of them knew that a single hit will bring them death. Their nerves were stretched taut, not allowing them to relax at all.

Ye Cang blew on the muzzles of his guns. He saw that the casualties were about the same on both sides. Generally speaking, the deaths on the enemy's side compared to the sneak attacking side were twice as much, but it was now about time. Ye Cang looked at the blond rich kid beside him, "What guild are you from?"

"Brother Hero, I'm a rookie in the freedom alliance - BlondOne." The blond haired gunman replied, since this was someone that even their president feared.

"Very good. You're very promising, I think very highly of you! Later, when you see Brother PureSoul, remember to tell him that our people weren't killed by us but dragged down by those sinister enemies. We could only go through with it for the greater good..." Ye Cang patted BlondOne's shoulder and smiled. Facing Ye Cang's cold smile, BlondOne couldn't help but gulp and nod.

"Tsk tsk, being able to shoot without a worry feels pretty good..." Ye Cang gave voice to his inner thoughts while he watched the battle between SpyingBlade and MistyVeil.

Beside him, everyone began to sweat. Such an evil man.

Chapter 504: Primal Chaos Steel

Ye Cang's Source Water Totem helped to recover everyone's mana, increasing the amount of magic damage, making the spellcasters ecstatic. Seeing that there were still a large number of enemies and allies, his two guns were drawn. Enchant Weapon - Wave. Enchant Weapon - Thunder. Of the two pistols, one started to ripple like a wave and the other crackled with electricity.

Three water and three lightning bullets shot out.

When the third attack landed, it immediately gave rise to a wave of water which resulted in a large area attack. Just at that time, there was an explosion of lightning. Due to the conductive nature of water, its damage area was expanded N times, paralysing a large swath of enemies and allies.

Ye Cang sighed and faced the paralysed people, a fire shining in his hand. "Your sacrifice will not be in vain..."

The refreshed Light Strike Array once again blasted towards the skies. The nearby mages saw this and felt their hearts shiver. Just how ruthless was this man. Luckily, they were ranged. The melee fighters were all treated as his cannon fodder to increase the number of targets.

Lin Le became braver the longer he fought, making Liu Yan'er feel sullen. Ye Cang drew his staff in water spear form, leapt off the tree and ran towards MistyVeil while dragging it along. While running, a watery light bubbled in his left hand.

MistyVeil knew that the battle was lost. Her heart sank, but she was going to take at least one person with her! Her spear swept out like a blooming flower. She activated a major skill. A cold blade suddenly appeared. SpyingBlade faintly smiled. His two swords, one held in a proper grip, the other in reverse grip, executed Dark Trial!

The black cross and the cold blade interweaved. Out of the corner of his eyes, SpyingBlade noticed that droplets were forming on the ground. It was definitely one of Team Leader's area attack skills! Pushing against MistyVeil's spear, he faded from place. MistyVeil turned to chase, but a bad premonition made her suddenly look down. A huge geyser suddenly launched her high into the air. Ye Cang stepped off the meadow, his water spear changed to a lightning lance in an instant. His other hand pulled out his shadow pike and threw it out. He followed after the shadow pike with a Dashing Straight Thrust. The second dash broke through a splash of water in front of him. When the water scattered, Ye Cang saw the spot he was about to stab and broke out in cold sweat. There can't be such a coincidence. Aunt Perky, it's not on purpose... The lightning lance, with its violent electric current, followed closely behind the shadow pike, pierced through her crotch like a lightning dragon.

SpyingBlade looked at the scene, and immediately broke out in cold sweat. MistyVeil's extremely ecstatic moan rang through the skies. The white electricity flowed from her crotch to her whole body. The numbing electric current paired with the attack on her sensitive area made it so that she couldn't hold it back.

Before perishing, she saw a wolf head hooded figure in the air with its back towards her. The wolf head hood was slowly pushed aside by the wind. Ye Cang turned in the air and saw a MistyVeil with an ecstatic expression. He exposed a good-willed and apologetic smile and said, "Aunt Perk, it wasn't on purpose. The water blocked my vision, I could only guess your position. Also, you're a professional, you should be more wary. Look how vigilant SpyingBlade is..."

"F**k... off... you... I'm not Aun..." MistyVeil didn't get to finish before turning into white light, dying in battle.

Ye Cang reached out his hand in the air. The shadow pike returned to his hand and his lightning lance was returned to his back. He turned into three shadows, attacking towards Lin Le's area. SpyingBlade wiped his sweat. He killed and preached again. Will it kill him not to draw hate? They were already mad enough that you killed them, yet you question their standards and provoke them.

Many ranged players had filmed the entire thing. They all gave Ye Cang a thumbs up.

Ye Cang fell from the sky, electricity sparking in his hand. Chain lightning shot out. Liu Yan'er was still distracted by the ecstatic scene of MistyVeil, and was somewhat absentmindedly hit by Ye Cang's chain Lightning. Chaining between the five of them, they all became paralyzed. Lin Le took this chance to unleash his Sword Drawing Arts and Rising Slash, instantly getting rid of the five.

With the situation settled, Ye Cang went to the edge of the high grounds and surveyed the exceptionally fervent battle at the frontlines. He threw a Flame Burst into the air. NalanPureSoul saw the enormous explosion. "As extravagant as usual, using a Flame Burst as a signal..."

"Misty Rain is defeated! Give up!!" NalanPureSoul said clearly, but the flames in his hand never stopped flickering.

MistyVeil's death made the already low morale enemies even gloomier. They were utterly defeated. Gongsun Qian sighed deeply. The moment they cowered, the situation would become like a crumbling dam. She looked at the flood cutting through her forces like a knife through butter and chose to admit defeat.

The battle against the elven nation was won. After everyone obtained achievement rewards, they went to observe the Steel Empire battle. It seemed to have fought to a deadlock. LordAsked and CloudDragon joined hands to firmly pin down FlameEmperor. ThornyRose and the other second-rate guilds held their own, resisting the League of Tyrants etc. Unexpectedly, it actually ended in a draw. After an entire day of fighting, by the end of which, ThornyRose was resisting the League of Tyrants from inside their stronghold. Heavenly Oath received a favorable impression this time, as without them, the Steel Empire would have been victorious.

NalanPureSoul, Ye Cang and the others watched CloudDragon, LordAsked, ThornyRose and others walk out of the goddess association.

“You couldn’t even win. Shame....” Lin Le pouted and sighed. “It’s no good without Lele...”

LordAsked looked at Lin Le and gnashed his teeth. Isn’t that the kid who led the sneak attack on the stronghold last time? Self-important brat!

“Well... a draw isn’t bad. At least, it’s not a loss. Everyone’s worked hard. Hah...” Though Ye Cang said while releasing a resentful sigh at the end.

CloudDragon’s brows rose. This bastard, didn’t he only win, together with NalanPureSoul, against that counterfeit heavenly king MistyVeil.

“I thought you guys were strong.” Zhang ZhengXiong snorted, not giving them any face.

LordAsked frowned. He stood out and said imposingly, “Brat, who do you think I am? All you did was win against those elf sissies...”

“Senior, who do you think I am? Why don’t you come find out...” Zhang ZhengXiong welcomed it with a grin. The atmosphere became tense.

ThornyRose quickly came out to mediate. Shaking Bear was fine in all aspects, except he was too hot headed. Ye Cang also smiled and walked over, “Alright. A’Xiong, don’t provoke them. Come to the blacksmith and try helping me with my shadow pike.”

Ye Cang put a hand on Zhang ZhengXiong’s shoulder, then brought his party away.

“That brat, sooner or later, I’ll need to teach him a lesson.” LordAsked looked at Zhang ZhengXiong’s back and narrowed his eyes.

“Right now, with that body of his, even FlameEmperor couldn’t deal with him, let alone you.” CloudDragon pat LordAsked’s shoulder and acknowledged Zhang ZhengXiong’s strength. He then headed towards the underground harbour, planning to return to White Stone City.

Holy Church, smithy.

Ye Cang had Zhang ZhengXiong try to combine Alabachia’s light with the Shadow pike but it wasn’t looking good. Ye Cang sighed, guessing that it wasn’t possible.

“That is a whole piece of untouched Primal Chaos Steel, your methods obviously won’t work. Primal chaos steel is a heavenly treasure like God’s Iron. More accurately, it is even more uncommon than God’s Iron. Primal chaos steel is extremely mutable and contained a mysterious energy. If one looked carefully, this primal chaos steel (the black pearl like thing) was connected to the Cloud Stone and Thunder Jade. This must be a tribe’s symbolic treasure, extremely precious.” An old voice uttered. The two of them turned to see a wizened old man. This was Zhang ZhengXiong’s tutor, Conrad Dove.

Chapter 505: Dark Blade Form

“Teacher, then what can be done?” Zhang ZhengXiong asked.

Conrad’s wizened body strangely picked up the heavy forge hammer. It was as if it weighed nothing at all in his hands. He suddenly struck down heavily, smashing Ye Cang’s shadow pike to pieces. He then reached out and took out a black crystal from within. “So, it’s Shadow Soul Essence. One can never have enough of this treasure. You two have quite a bit of good stuff.”

“The body of this staff is made from an untouched deep-sea crystal tree. Using it directly as a staff is a waste. This staff is simply a bunch of unprocessed treasured stacked together.” Conrad picked up the staff and sighed. Ye Cang watched as he spent quite a bit of effort to remove the primal chaos steel, cloud stone and lightning jade, then began to work on them.

Ye Cang took out a bit of each of the uncommon ores they had mined from various locations. Conrad looked at them with a strange expression. Even if one had the right to mine, but the number of different kinds of rare ore was astonishing. Blood Amber for example, was the best medium for joining things together, extremely precious, yet the one in front of him was the size of a pumpkin. He didn’t even know where to start. Cut a piece off? That would be a crime! How could one just destroy a heavenly treasure. He chose a smaller piece of blood amber. “Blood amber is one of the best things for joining staffs with their magic materials. With it as the link, the link between the materials will take half the work for twice the effect.”

Zhang ZhengXiong learned carefully. Conrad once more looked through Ye Cang’s pile of ore and picked out a black colored magic silver, “Magic Silver, combined with blood amber to form the setting and prongs. This piece of primal chaos steel, deep-sea crystal tree, and shadow soul essence will temporarily go unprocessed. There are no suitable materials. Carelessly forcing it would be a waste.”

Conrad melted the blood amber and magic silver, then once again connected the primal chaos steel, cloudstone, lightning jade, as well as the shadow soul essence. He passed the staff to Ye Cang, then reached out and took a blue stone, “As remuneration, I’ll be taking this sky blue agate.”

“What is sky blue agate used for?” Zhang ZhengXiong asked.

“The door to god, meditation. It is used to make priest tools. The best of the best material. I just happened to need a piece.” Conrad replied.

“Thanks, Bishop Conrad.” Ye Cang expressed his thanks. Conrad waved his hand and left.

“Bro, let me see what your staff’s stats are like.” Zhang ZhengXiong said curiously.

Ye Cang posted the staff’s stats.

Ye Cang switched his weapon to Dark Blade and the top of the staff became a 120cm long black colour crescent blade. He swung it a few times like a glaive, then nodded satisfied. “Not bad, very useful.”

Zhang ZhengXiong saw that the staffs damage was a whopping 61. His own weapon was only at 42. He knew that a single point in weapon damage was not simply a point in overall damage. He decided to make himself a new weapon. While he was at it, he decided to make one for Lin Le too; it was about time.

Ye Cang left the holy church's smithy. He saw Gina standing shyly in a corner so walked over and pet her head familiarly. "Yo, long time no see, Gina..."

"Mm, Earl PaleSnow, long time no see." Gina said bashfully with a red face. Her voice became quieter and quieter.

The mood was a bit strange. Gina was so embarrassed that she didn't know what to do. Her delicate hands grabbed tightly onto her skirt and she lifted her head to see Ye Cang smiling calmly under his wolf head hood. Her heart beat accelerated once more, and she lowered her head shyly.

"White Hair, what brought you to the church?" Mar Junior's untimely voice arrived.

Ye Cang turned and shrugged, "Just some business. Luckily, Bishop Conrad was around, otherwise I wouldn't have been able to complete it."

Mar Junio nodded. Conrad was a legendary figure in the holy church. His smithing level was also one of the most outstanding in the church, with a vast pool of knowledge. For HeavenShakingMight to learn from him meant that he had boundless prospects.

"I... I'll head home first." Gina left frantically. Mar Junior watched Gina's back, amused. A young lady and her first love...

Ye Cang also turned back to look at Gina. He pouted, "I always feel like she's a bit silly."

Mar Junior immediately broke out in cold sweat. Hey, do you seriously not know or are you faking it? Those are the feelings of a young girl who likes you. But he didn't point it out. The two of them chatted for a while before saying goodbye. Ye Cang left the holy church and went by himself to Goddess Peak. He went to ride the public transit from Black Rock City to Bal Village and saw the announcement at the platform. Now, a bus to the underground pier had been set up. The bus soon arrived. Even though it was only for 50 people, Ye Cang saw that the inside was packed tight. In every window, there were people half hanging out due to there not being enough room for them. Listening to the foul chatter in the bus, he estimated that there was at least over 100 people inside. He decisively chose to walk.

Goddess Peak, three goddesses shrine.

Ye Cang summoned the three goddesses and discussed the performance set for two days later. He would conveniently use that as the grand opening of the goddess palace.

Soon, Ye Cang passed them the clothes and things, he had them wear them for a dress rehearsal. He continued to guide them on how to better attract perverts, and the three goddesses earnestly learned the poses and knowledge that Ye Cang had gathered from fashion and porn magazines. They were delighted to receive Ye Cang's wanton ravaging.

Chapter 506: Other Shore Watching AV

After the three goddesses were disgraced in all kinds of ways, Ye Cang was satisfied. A red faced Mallows sighed in relief. At first, she had questioned whether this person was disrespecting gods, but his sincere attitude and the fact that her number of believers had already surpassed their heydays made her extremely grateful for Ye Cang and his so called strategies. Their mother's (goddess of life) disdain and their uncle's (god of light) arrogance this past millennium had left her feeling very sullen.

Anya was still sighing over the fact that her domain had been seized. How great would it be if she could enjoy having Goddess Peak on her own. Such a grand palace was many times better than her past one. Even her uncle's palace of light was only a bit better at best. Of course, the treasures enshrined inside weren't things she could compare with.

As for Jam, she was also very grateful towards Ye Cang. She didn't want to be lonely anymore. If ThornyRose knew what these three goddesses were thinking, she would definitely sigh over how similar this was to an expired star returning to the limelights.

"After the ceremony in two days, us sisters will heavily reward you. Thank you for helping us." Mallows stood out and said with a smile.

Ye Cang waved his hand and walked out of the shrine. He spoke with his back to the goddesses, "Just your thoughts are enough. When the time comes, remember today's feelings. Don't mess up on me! Got it!?"

The three goddesses watched Ye Cang departing back. Thinking of their training experiences up until now, they felt a bit afraid.

Anya's eyes narrowed. Sir PaleSnow's usefulness is extremely important, I must rope him in to help me build a perfect holy land and connect with believers. He can help me build the foundations to become a top god. It's been so long since I've absorbed such a substantial amount of belief, I nearly forgot how it feels.

Mallows and Jam, these two goddesses, also began to scheme. Holy Church.

Conrad, who was making a holy tool, recalled the pure looking sword behind Ye Cang's waist. "Assenroche. Garros' only regret is actually with him. I hope he can figure out the 'secret' that even Garros was unable to. HeavenShakingMight! Come assist me! Today, I'll teach you how to make priest tools! These are very important for our prayers! What do you mean you've never seen me in prayer! Training my body is my way of praying to the great god of light! What's with that look! How do you know that I've been having an affair with Bishop Ellie! Cough cough. HeavenShakingMight, in fact, priest tools are divided into many types..."

Back near prosperous Goddess Peak, Ye Cang arrived at the Dark Cave and heard parties shouting for members. He sighed feeling that, as a high-end professional player, it was lonely at the top. Having come to play around in the Dark Cave, he decided to treat it as a chance to see how these ordinary parties fought. He took off his signature wolf-head hood, heavy shoulder guards, guns, and other weapons, and replaced them with a dark gold staff and a gold spellcaster robe (with hood). Putting on the hood, he sighed, "No matter how I hide it, my high-end aura still can't be hidden..."

"The hooded mage over there! The one with the staff and the sort of dog-like armor, do you know fire spells?" A 30 year old, bearded, green-robed spellcaster saw Ye Cang sighing and asked.

Ye Cang's hands trembled as he endured the urge to blast him to death with a Flame Burst. He tried to act cool by caressing his hood. Thinking that a spell that was too strong would definitely give him away, he sighed and said sadly, "Yes, fireball."

"Even though you're trying to imitate Brother Hero by acting cool with a hood, but who do you think you are!? That's Brother Hero you know. One of his farts could send you flying. Him acting cool with his hood is awesome, as for you... Eh, you just look a bit silly. Forget it. Fireball. Tsk tsk, we'll put up with you. Let's go. Follow me to the meeting area. Oh right, I haven't introduced myself. I'm OtherShoreWatchingAV, a plant user. You can just call me Brother V." OtherShoreWatchingAV patted Ye Cang on the shoulder, then turned and started to walk towards Ye Cang's vendor shop at the dark caves. Ye Cang clenched his fists, veins throbbed on his forehead. He restrained the urge to draw his staff from his shadow and cut him in half in one strike.

"Do you know what the most popular class right now is? It's right here in Black Peaks." OtherShoreWatchingAV smiled.

"Ranger?" Ye Cang took a deep breath and then asked.

"That dumbass class? Brother hero can be awesome as a ranger, but everyone else is a dumbass. Look at all the recruiters, how many of them are looking for a ranger? Guess again." OtherShoreWatchingAV pursed his lips.

Even though Ye Cang didn't like his tone but since he was being praised, he at least didn't explode. "I don't know..."

"Just considering the Dark Cave, then fire mages and warlocks are the most popular. Especially the more powerful ones, they can even earn money by joining runs. Next are Plant Users. Plant Users are a new class that only came about when Brother Hero and they saved the three goddesses, however, the class is currently in short supply. Changing classes is hard, but the class tutors teach much better than the ones at the Holy Church. You get five skills right off the bat! Moreover, three of those skills are very useful! I was originally a summoner, but... You know how hard it is to get a summon skill book right? No one cared about me, so I tried to change classes, transferring to be one of goddess Jam's subordinates and becoming a Plant User. I even managed to get an epic... Cough cough, nothing... Anyways, the team, I am in, can already beat Old

One.” OtherShoreWatchingAV chattered on and on. Ye Cang simply nodded and forced himself to laugh.

Even though Ye Cang was somewhat dumbfounded, he still had a sort of good impression of OtherShoreWatchingAV. He was very enthusiastic and carefree without seeming fake. In fact, he was a bit like A’Xiong. Only a short time had passed yet he was already so friendly.

The entrance to the Dark Cave was very crowded. OtherShoreWatchingAV brought Ye Cang to a group in the crowd and introduced everyone. The team leader was called AsTheWindBlows. The team had 15 people altogether. Their formation was considered pretty good, giving them a good chance at killing Old One.

Towards the person OtherShoreWatchingAV had brought, AsTheWindBlows didn’t say anything. He brought the team into the instance and they quickly fought their way to Old One. Ye Cang did his best to only use fireball and other low level spells but there was no way to hide his high damage. AsTheWindBlows raised his brows surprised. It seemed that that chatterbox had managed to bring back a powerful fire mage. Old One was practically in the bag.

It had already been over two months since Ye Cang was last in the Dark Cave. When faced with the grey toad Googoo, he sighed and began to perform his duty as a spellcaster while observing the others. Among them, the ones who contributed the most were probably himself and AV. This party mainly depended on AV’s Flower Fragrance skill and Healing Pollen. What surprised Ye Cang was AV’s major skill, a sustained group healing skill called Plant Growth. Healing wasn’t the main point though. Most important was that it could raise all attributes and speed for a short time! Ye Cang thought to himself, no wonder such a common and unremarkable party could have the power to defeat Old One. Even though there were quite a few parties that had defeated the first boss, from what Ye Cang could tell, they didn't even consider any third-rate players. Also, most of the members were the Party Leader's friends.

Chapter 507: Black Equipment

Googoo began to spit out poison. OtherShoreWatchingAV once again used a group cure spell. Ye Cang raised his brows at this. Even though it couldn't be compared to his Flowers in the Wind but it was a specialized cure spell. Another fireball formed in his hand. Even though it was a fireball, it might as well have been a flame burst. It blasted Googoo, leaving him crying in pain. AsTheWindBlows figured that Old One was about done, he had everyone besiege it.

Ye Cang looked at the water mage beside him. Even though his own party's Nana and OldWangFromNextDoor hadn't been very useful, but they had NalanPureSoul. This party actually dared to bring a water mage along? He somewhat speechlessly said, "Stop using Water Gun. If you mess up, you might put out my burn effect."

"Leave me alone. Now is the time to go all out." The water mage grinned. You want to use your high damage to claim my equipment? Don't even think about it!

Ye Cang frowned. His hands once again shone with fire but this time the target wasn't the boss. Beside him, OtherShoreWatchingAV noticed his actions and held Ye Cang back. "Brother, endure. We're all on the same team. That brat is just a dumbass. There's no need to lower yourself to his level."

Ye Cang reached out and another fireball blasted Googoo, deciding to resolve things after the battle. He turned and looked strangely at the big guy, who was just a bit smaller than A'Xiong, dancing among the flowers like a flower fairy and acting 'cute'.

"It's going to jump! Everyone get ready!" AsTheWindBlows warned.

Everyone scattered to find obstacles to hide under but a few of them were still crushed to death. Following that, they entered the end of the fight. Half the party had died by this point. Ye Cang waved his staff and five consecutive fireballs finished off the boss. Just as he wanted to rush to the corpse, the excited AsTheWindBlows had already looted it. Ye Cang gnashed his teeth. This damn party.

“A dark gold!!” AsTheWindBlows was delighted. An idea formed in his mind.

Ye Cang crossed his arms and clicked his tongue. It’s just a dark gold. If I had looted, it would definitely be a godly artifact. However their luck wasn’t bad. After this instance’s drop rates got cut, the first boss only had a very low chance of dropping dark gold equipment. The final boss, however, always dropped dark gold. Of course, that was what NalanPureSoul had told him.*

Waiting until everyone was present, they began to distribute the equipment. First was a distinguished quality longsword. It was directly given to an assassin. Next were gold quality heavy shoulder guards. AsTheWingBlows took them for himself. Ye Cang saw that the other heavy armor classes remained silent, so he didn’t say anything. At last, it was the star of the show, the dark gold magic cape. Intelligence, wisdom, spell power and even mana recovery. It would be useful to any spellcaster.

“The new spellcaster over there, since you haven’t been in the team for long, you won’t be considered for this item.” AsTheWindBlows’ words made Ye Cang frown.

He didn’t really care about this equipment, even if it was a dark gold one, but what he did care about was the meaning behind these actions. He sneered, “But my damage was the highest. All of your ranged attackers added together are barely a match for me.”

“Our party’s distribution policy isn’t based on that, but for the team’s stability. Sorry.” AsTheWindBlows said regretfully, then directly handed it to the water mage.

OtherShoreWatchingAV also stood up and said earnestly, “Team Leader Wind, this brother here contributed the most. What you're doing isn't right, let alone the fact that I need it too."

"AV, newcomer, just bear with it. We'll consider you next time." AsTheWindBlows patted their shoulders and apologized with a smile. The rest of the team all came to persuade them.

"This isn't about me! I'm the one who brought this brother here. He's also the one who dealt the most damage! Wind, how can you give it to the most useless Windward? What are you trying to do? Don't even think about skimping it over!" OtherShoreWatchingAV said furiously.

"Humph, AV you outsider, failing to appreciate our kindness. What do you mean you brought him? Acting as if you're all that, if we didn't think that you were a Plant User with some skill..." The water mage who got the cape, Windward, sneered. He even glanced disdainfully at Ye Cang.

A black crescent flashed by and then returned under everyone's gaze. Ye Cang, with a grin on his face, dragged his Dark Blade along and had instantly cut the mage in half. Unexpectedly, the cape actually dropped. His luck was pretty good. While everyone was still stunned, he reached out, took it, and said indifferently, "I don't like people taking my things and I don't like arrogant people. (If ThornyRose and the others were here, they would have roared that he was exactly that.)"

"Give the cape..." AsTheWindBlows drew his sword. A black crescent which had a watery ripple flashed by. The extra range from Shadow Edge, besides OtherShoreWatchingAV, the rest were killed by Ye Cang's Dark Blade and the wave generated by the third strike. OtherShoreWatchingAV was dumbstruck.

Ye Cang removed his hood, took out his usual wolf hood cloak and put it on. He equipped his two guns and his usual weapons, then looked at OtherShoreWatchingAV who had a look of worship in his eyes. He gazed off into the distance with a look of disappointment and said, “Young AV, leave this party. If I’m not wrong, they were going to sell the cape for money. They never intended to give it to anyone. Hah... people aren’t like they used to be, it is a world of hypocrisy. ”

OtherShoreWatchingAV had yet to snap out of his daze. He thought back to the previous scene. He was actually Brother Hero! He stared at the messy corpses on the ground that were just disappearing into white light, unsure of what expression to make. He had only joined this party because of Wind’s enthusiastic invitation. He had always turned a blind eye to those little tricks up till now. To strengthen the party, he had gone looking everywhere for a fire mage, yet they only cared about themselves. All for a dark gold cape. They were truly too narrow-minded. He looked to Ye Cang and said awkwardly, “Brother Hero, I’m really sorry about that. You must find it funny...”

Ye Cang shook his head and smiled. He tossed the cape over the OtherShoreWatchingAV, then looking confident and at ease, he turned to leave. As a veteran drama watcher, he was familiar with the art of showing off. After a few dozen steps, he stole a glance and saw OtherShoreWatchingAV’s regretful expression, then he turned as if not paying attention and said, “Right, are you interested in joining Happy Firmaments?”

“I... I... Can I really!?” OtherShoreWatchingAV’s disappointment became excitement. He even found it difficult to speak! Happy Firmaments! The guild that had taken 90% of the world announcements! Only the elite among elites could enter!

Ye Cang smiled proudly, not giving him a definite answer. Instead, without turning back, he said, “Let’s go...”

“Boss! Wait for me!” OtherShoreWatchingAV quickly jogged to catch up.

As for AsTheWindBlows, Ye Cang paid no attention to him. On the contrary, when AsTheWindBlows found out that that person was Ye Cang, he became extremely nervous.

Chapter 508: Not Quite

Ye Cang gathered the current Happy Firmament members at the Goddess Association. ThornyRose heard from FrozenCloud that there was a new member. She happened to be nearby, finishing up the Dark Cave, so she quickly ran over. She saw a big man, two sizes smaller than Zhang ZhengXiong. He walked over wearing a fresh green robe and holding a plant staff.

“Let me introduce everyone. This is our Happy Firmaments’ new recruit, OtherShoreWatchingAV. He is a flower boy and has passed Lele’s anti bad guy radar.” Ye Cang introduced.

Lin Le’s ahoge stood erect. He nodded, acting like a specialist, “He’s already gone through Lele’s inspection.”

“Umm... it’s Plant User...” OtherShoreWatchingAV reminded quietly but was directly ignored. He looked at Mad Devil Le, as well as the overbearing Brother Big Diamond. “Hi everyone, just call me young V.”

SpyingBlade had a strange expression as he wondered what the heck that radar was. They spoke as if it really was a thing. However, their team did in fact need another dedicated support. Plant User was a pretty good choice. They were popular right now, especially in parties. However, their defensive power was very ordinary.

“A good Plant User is currently very in demand.” ThornyRose walked in and smiled.

“Young V, let me quickly introduce you. She is from Thorns and Roses.” Ye Cang’s words made SpyingBlade and FrozenCloud ashamed. He spoke as if he himself wasn’t part of the Thorns and Roses club.

“You’re also in Thorns and Roses!!” ThornyRose shouted, then took a deep breath.

OtherShore acted very respectfully towards a top player like ThornyRose. He nodded at her politely. Then, Ye Cang continued introducing the other party members. Finally, he pointed at Little Ye Tian, “If there is anything you don’t understand, just ask Little Tian.”

OtherShore nodded vigorously. She was the girl genius who crushed BrilliantZhuge in intelligence! Little Ye Tian had him share with her his skills, attributes and talents. Then, she chose some equipment from the cart for him. “Put them on. These should suit you. We’ll talk about the party’s distribution rules once there is something better in the future.”

ThornyRose saw that Little Ye Tian was the manager of the party. It would be nice if the girl were to help manage Thorns and Roses. The new product she made for my mom’s place is simply a money making machine. Even the main branch is eyeing it. “It’s nearly time for the league. You all should prepare a bit more, for the Great Christmas War...”

Even though Ye Cang really wanted to annoy her, but he recalled his battle against Flame Emperor, where he clearly didn’t have the strength fight back yet didn’t want to lose. A dream huh? Do I have one? He faintly smiled. “As the ace, that is obvious...”

“Sister Rose, if I take out CloudDragon, then what we discussed, will you...” Zhang ZhengXiong ran over to ThornyRose’s side and began to wink at her.

ThornyRose facepalmed and nodded, thinking, “Sister Lily, your sacrifice won’t be in vain.”

FrozenBlood and ElegantFragrance looked at ThornyRose disdainfully. She had finally started to sell out her sisters. But they also found it interesting.

Elsewhere, under the mountain. DyedLily, not knowing why, felt a shiver. She suddenly looked up at Goddess Peak, then shrugged and proceeded to bring a team into the Dark Cave.

Everyone talked and laughed together. ThornyRose was angered by Little Ye Tian till the white of her eyes were showing. Wu Na pulled FrozenCloud, FrozenBlood and ElegantFragrance away, then the girls threw themselves into talks about makeup. Lele, unwilling to be left out, squeezed his way into their group pretending to be a fashion specialist. A'Xiong, the new Young V and Wang appeared to be talking about some perverted things. Fang Ci and SpyingBlade were also dragged along with them.

Ye Cang looked at this happy moment and smiled from his heart. As he was about to take a step forwards, he was suddenly struck by a chill. He had a dark feeling that he shouldn't get too close with them. The laughter and smiles seemed to grow further away. His brows wrinkled. What was that feeling...

"Lowlife, what are you thinking about?" ThornyRose saw Ye Cang frowning and gently patted his shoulder.

"I'm thinking about the importance of life..." Ye Cang put on a serious expression and said.

ThornyRose unhappily rolled her eyes. It was simply impossible to communicate with him. They had unwittingly been aquantained for half a year already, yet truth be told, she seemed to know nothing at all about him. She was completely unable to see through those pink eyes.

"Wang, brother Xiong, let me show you something good." OtherShoreWatchingAV shared something rare with them. Zhang ZhengXiong and OldWangFromNextDoor looked at its name: 'Transformers vs Ultraman - Real Edition!'.

SpyingBlade and them went to watch it together. He nodded in approval; it was a true work of art. They then came out and were greeted by ThornyRose and the girls' contempt. He turned away and sighed, "Hah, young people these days... Hah..."

ThornyRose couldn't hold back her laughter. That guy, after having stayed with Ye Cang and them for a while, now seems more cheerful. As for why Gongsun Qian had chosen him instead of the FlameEmperor, everyone was puzzled over it.

“Goddess Peak’s show, have you finished arranging it?” ThornyRose asked.

“Alright, ritual it is. Is it ready?” ThornyRose said amazed.

“The dress rehears-whatever is pretty much done. It will be enough to just perfect it a bit tomorrow. Clothing wise, tell that tailor on your side to follow my plan exactly.” Ye Cang thought of the clothes. He could make leather clothing, but for the tailoring materials, he could only rely on her side.

He then logged out of the game.

Ye Cang kept pondering. He sat on the chair out on the balcony and looked at the starry night sky. “It was probably some kind of omen of death. Am I going to die? No matter, at least while I’m alive, I have to give them a happy environment to live in.”

Ye Cang slowly opened a can of beer. “Doctor, I didn’t end up hating humans. My beloved people are humans. I only hate the ruthlessness of fate and frailty of life, which made them leave me one by one while I could only watch helplessly as they close their eyes.”

He once again thought of that rainy day. That street. Fresh blood flowed from his embrace, dyeing the surroundings red. That face which was still smiling and making breakfast just that morning. The engagement ring, those boundless expectations and longings, it all instantly became an ice-cold body and shattered dreams. At that time, he really wanted to leave this world with her. His heart felt like it was being crushed by formless vice. He didn’t know how he even managed to breath at that time. The difference between tears and rain seemed to blur. He had looked up to see A’Xiong’s stunned face in the rain, then recalled that the day they met, it had also been raining like this.

Ye Cang withdrew from his thoughts. Returning to his room, he opened the drawer, saw the photo inside and smiled. Taking out the envelope inside the frame, he slowly opened it. Seeing the familiar writing and the person in the photo, his eyes brimmed with tears. He hugged the frame tightly to his chest and leaned against the wall with his head down, like a broken-hearted child.

Chapter 509: Instakill

Even though Ye Cang was only an artificial human but he had felt true emotions. After knowing love, he learned to be strong, but it also came with weaknesses, one which he was unable to let go of. After sorting out his feelings, he put the things away, then logged into the virtual world. Strolling around in DiFeng city, he happened to arrive outside the Thorns and Roses club building. Thinking for a bit, he walked in. Standing outside the training area, he watched ThornyRose, FrozenBlood and ElegantFragrance train within. A good-willed smile appeared on his face. This sort of pressure wasn't enough, they needed his help. Changing to his SS rank Piercing Thorn, he walked in and instantly surprise attacked ElegantFragrance with a few flash like sword blows, instakilling her. Triggering the short ranged blink, his blade appeared between FrozenBlood and ThornyRose. Blocking ThornyRose's sword, he reversed his grip and stabbed into FrozenBlood behind him, triggering triple thrust. While hitting her, he blinked behind her and stabbed into her back, and then again. Another strike stabbed through her towards ThornyRose. A triple thrust pierced at ThornyRose but was blocked by her shield. Thrust Storm! He flashed around the sky, unleashing thrust attacks, quickly reaping the lives of the entire five person party. A beautiful killing streak. He didn't even use his limit break ultimate - Flash of Life (Chance to instantly kill. On kill, refreshes cooldown).

This was the first time they had experienced a sneak attack as the enemy of Ye Cang's Piercing Thorn. The girls watched as Ye Cang stood perfectly straight and sheathed his incredibly thin sword with a flourish. So fast. He would be in front of them one moment, then behind them the next. When they turned to strike back, they would discover that he was now at their side. When using Thrust Storm, it became even more difficult to catch the blinking figure.

"Again!" ThornyRose brought the girls onto the field once more and launched an assault. Ye Cang simply kicked off with a leg, intending to break through to the right. ThornyRose, who was good at interception, blocked him with her shield, however, Ye Cang instantly turned his right-ward momentum into left, brushing right by her.

ThornyRose felt she was up against lightning. The moment she failed to follow it, it became uncatchable. She turned and saw that Ye Cang was already in the distant back line. She pursued again.

FrozenBlood met his charge, directly activating her ultimate. Flash Dance! Bright Flash! She became a streak of light and flew at him. Ye Cang easily raised his sword and blocked her. FrozenBlood then activated Dark Flash but the skill was broken by Ye Cang, the moment it started with a simple push. With a few swings of his sword, he cut ElegantFragrance's arrows out of the air. ElegantFragrance frowned. What kind of speed was that! Even her sniping could be cut down by him in a few swings. She watched as he kicked while feigning an attack. He attacked like striking with a dragon tail, kicking FrozenBlood away. Then he used a Blade Edge Blink to get to herself. She quickly pulled out her sword but before she could even attack, her heart had already been run through! Flash of Life!

DemonSpirit pouted at how hard it was to hit him with magic. While aiming, she suddenly saw a blade sticking out of her chest. He was behind her!? Such freakish speed and agility. ThornyRose had watched as Ye Cang continued to accelerate. Like lightning he had leaped to a wall then instantly turn around to arrive behind DemonSpirit. Flash of Life!

Without rest, Ye Cang continued to pursue the stealthed FrozenBlood. Closing his eyes, he accurately deflected her dagger. Flash of Life! Instakill! Dodging GreenDew's magic, he blinked once again. Flash of Life! Quadrakill! While he had the stacked speed buffs, he seemed to only take a single step to be face-to-face with ThornyRose. His left hand moved gently, as if caressing a face, deflecting the slamming shield. “Against an absolute difference in speed, you can’t do anything. You have no chance of success...”

The thin sword instantly slashed ThornyRose’s throat. Blink, stab, triple thrust behind her, blink stab. He appeared at her side, his sword took the initiative to meet with hers, then with the rebound force, he stabbed into her heart. Pulling it out, he leaned his body to avoid a counter-attack, then stabbed once again. Flash of Life! Failed! However, the high damage still killed her. Pentakill complete.

Even knowing the huge gap between S and SS rank, Ye Cang’s shocking speed still made them feel discouraged. Piercing Thorn. FrozenBlood had tried it a few times, but she could never reach Ye Cang’s adaptability. She was still lacking in the reaction time and coordination required when reaching extreme speeds. ThornyRose gnashed her teeth as she looked at Ye Cang’s self-important face. That chin pointing 45 degrees upwards just drove her insane, but she still began to discuss strategies.

Like that, they fought for an entire night. They had adapted a bit to the speed but Ye Cang’s Flash of Life, against their back line, was simply invincible. From beginning to end, the last to die was always ThornyRose. This made ThornyRose discover the club’s fatal weakness. If the opponent was a super speed type athlete like Ye Cang’s Piercing Thorn, her back line became useless. She quickly swapped out FrozenBlood with DyedLily. With DyedLily protecting the back line, the situation became a bit better, but they still couldn’t stop Ye Cang from massacring the spellcasters and archers. In the end, it was only when DemonSpirit was swapped out for an A rank wind and ice sorcerer, that Ye Cang had some trouble. This gave ThornyRose hope. However, an A rank was, in the end, only an A rank. Restricting Ye Cang with only her wind and ice was simply impossible. But this gave ThornyRose direction. Piercing Thorn’s greatest weakness was wind and ice type spellcasters! The cold wind could limit his maximum speed and tempo! From the honorary characters, she found an S rank Ice Queen.

With difficulty, Ye Cang managed to kill ElegantFragrance but ThornyRose and DyedLily forcefully blocked both his path to advance and retreat, trapping him in the bone-chilling wind area. He decisively feigned an attack, then leaped out of the arena. Looking 45 degrees out the skylight, he calmly said, “We’ll meet again. I have some things to do at home. Tonight, was fun. Until next time...”

Saying that, he disappeared from under the angry gazes of the girls.

“Damn lowlife...” ThornyRose gnashed her teeth. He actually ran when he saw they had found a strategy! In the end, they lost for an entire night! 5 against 1 no less! Be that as it may, ThornyRose still felt a bit grateful. His actions tonight were clearly to wake them up. She turned to see FrozenBlood in thought with a reluctant expression. It had been a long time since she’s looked like that. Before being swapped with DyedLily, her confrontations with that lowlife couldn’t even be describe with the word defeat. It was more like casually crushed. Even her ultimate had been easily broken.

Frozenblood looked at the dagger in her hand. Was it because of her speed? No, it was her variations. His attacks were more concise, attacked straight at his target. Her ultimate may seem to arrive instantly, but for him, CloudDragon, ShakingBear and those types, it was just flashy. She could already feel it the first time she was defeated by his Storm Fencer. S rank and SS rank also had a defining difference, the limit break ultimate. “Rose, let’s take a gamble. Arrange for our SS rank promotion exam.”

“Alright...” ThornyRose faintly smiled. She looked at the place where Ye Cang had been and thought, “Can we break past our limit?”

The four women slowly turned around to continue training when ElegantFragrance discovered something. The match was still on, the battle had simply paused! ThornyRose suddenly felt a chill. She saw a thin sword poking out of her throat and heard a calm whisper beside her ear, “An opening...”

F**k! This damn lowlife!!

Beside FrozenBlood, Little Jade trembled violently. Team Leader is even more nasty than sister FrozenBlood.

Ye Cang Blade Edge Blinked to DyedLily and struck towards GreenDew’s Ice Queen, instantly killing her. He then ravaged the rest, completing another pentakill. He sheathed his sword and quickly left, his back to the furious cursing women. So shameless!

Shamelessly, he waved his hand and said, “A truly pleasant night...”

Chapter 510: Ritual

Goddess Peak's ritual was about to begin.

Ye Cang had Little Ye Tian arrange the ticket sales. Since the Goddess's descent was often accompanied by blessings, the only ones allowed on the mountain were those with tickets or Goddess Association members. Little Ye Tian looked at the ones reselling tickets in the distance. It seemed to be someone that ThornyRose had set up, so she didn't say anything. Together with her most hated Lin Le, they maintained order on the path.

Azshara had also received a request from Ye Cang and sent some people to help maintain order. Of course, it came with a little benefit. The stage, of course, was watched over by the three instructors and their subordinate tutors. Tens of enormous treants stood by the mountain cliffs, overlooking the trembling people. On the ritual stage, Maru Naya's grim and ruthless expression also made one shiver. As for Linda, she was together with Little Ye Tian, in charge of the ascending people.

The ritual time arrived. By now, it was already dusk. Ye Cang nodded towards Makarlo and a hundred flowers bloomed on the stage. Countless elegant trees wound their way upwards, and three enormous flower buds bloomed in red, yellow and green. Anya, Mallows and Jam appeared from within, in various alluring poses. Jam's nature carol began. The faintly transparent green laced clothing, adorned perfectly with plants, leaves and petals, matched well with her elegant and ethereal voice, which drew everyone in and left them extremely relaxed. After a verse, Anya's austere ode got everyone's blood pumping. The third verse was Mallows' dignified and awe-inspiring voice.

After the song, were solo performances. The three goddesses all sang their own songs. The lyrics were originally litany's, that had been lost in the rivers of time. Seeing the scene full of fanatical believers, the were so moved that they wanted to cry. After a thousand years of silence, they could obtain belief once more. The three goddesses were extremely dedicated. They sang and danced very earnestly. Everyone felt like they were watching the goddesses dance with the stars, surrounded by nature. The extremely beautiful scene was imprinted into their minds; especially when Anya's big movements had undone a button on her chest, nearly releasing one of the missiles. However, in the end, it was still a tiny bit away! It felt like just a tiny bit more and it would have shot out. The believers all beat the floor in frustration. Why!? Why!? Every single time! They all began to send out brainwaves with everything they had. Fall! Fall! Fall! Faaalll!! Goddess Anya! Please let them fall out!

Mallows was not to be outdone. She sat down and slowly crossed her legs, exposing her slender and picturesque leg. The black stockings accented the shape, ending at her high heels. Paired with her dignified expression, it made people's heart palpitate and sent their minds daydreaming. She was bursting with queenliness.

“Violate me! Great Goddess Mallows!!”

“Tsk, you horny and filthy bastards. Our Goddess Jam is as pure as a piece of jade. That smile that seeps into your heart. That tender fragrance... as if embracing home.”

“That green tea b*tch's believers also smell of tainted green tea. Disgusting!!”

(Note: Green tea bitch = a manipulative bitch who acts innocent.)

When Jam emerged and began to sing her song, that faintly transparent, form fitting clothing somehow still preserved the pureness of nature, making one's heart itch terribly. Anya's female believers all flipped her with internationally insulting hand gesture.

Ye Cang informed Anya that she showed a lot of potential for tapping into the female market. Her boldness and more gender neutral style was very well received! She decisively stood up and very coolly walked down the stage. Reaching out a hand, she raised a female believer's chin, and spoke with a voice full of magic and wildness, "Are you willing to always believe in me?"

"I'm willing!!" The young girl shrieked. The women behind her all shrieked too. This scene made Anya freeze momentarily. When she heard those ear-piercing screams, she felt like they were crazy, but what she heard made her very happy and impassioned. She couldn't stop! She wanted to be worshipped!! She recalled the teasing tactic that Ye Cang had mentioned. Could it be used on women too? With a cool and evil smile, her tongue licked the girl's cheek. "This is a reward for your devotion, my child..."

It wasn't only Anya's female fans who screamed. The nearby men were all sticking out their butts and praying for a lick. Instantly, Anya's faction began to recite prayers for her.

Mallows clenched her teeth. As the eldest sister! Let me show you how it's done! She put on a hot expression and loosened her clothes a bit. The prayers to Anya began to gradually shift to Mallows. Jam didn't show any reaction, but she was worried in her heart. She reached out and pulled on a giant leaf. Natural water began to baptise her starting from her hair. Her drenched clothes seemed even more transparent. With that darling of nature like pureness, it made everyone's heart itch even more fiercely. In the end, they chose their favorites.

LordAsked, CloudDragon and the other VIPs all broke out in cold sweat. How was this any different from a show!? It was only another level higher. They listened to the concert like cheers and screams behind them and thought, "Those guys sure can play. More importantly, how did they do it? How did they turn three goddesses into 'high-end' actresses..."

The ritual eventually came to an end. Mallows looked at the sea of people and felt reborn. Exchanging a nod with Anya and Jam, their divine power swept out. Their singing voices seemed to come from the distant sky as the entire goddess peak bloomed with countless flowers. The power of nature overflowed.

“Congratulations, you’ve obtained the nature sister’s blessing. Permanent +1 all attributes and +1% will. While in the Black Peaks, damage received is reduced by 1% and defence is increased by +5.”

The permanent +1 to all attributes and +1% will made everyone excited. And now they would gain even more bonuses while in the Black Peaks. This made many tanks overjoyed. This meant that their strength in the Dark Cave had increased a bit. More importantly, it wasn’t from equipment but an extra bonus!

“Our brave warriors! We’ll leave goddess peak’s prosperity to you all!” The three goddesses all shouted. They became three warm currents that flowed into the sky and then sprinkled down like stars.

“So beautiful...” said some girl.

“Yeah, I can feel Goddess Mallows’ warmth...” said some perverted man with his back straight.

“Goddess Anya is the true god! Those other two are only using their relationship as sisters to take Goddess Peak from her!! Boycott the green tea b*tch and black nylon slut! Boycott! Boycott!!” The girl licked by Anya began to start an uprising.

“Retarded kid, the true master of this palace is Goddess Jam!” said Jam’s male believer A.

“Queen Mallows is still the best. Neither Anya and Jam have the aura of a master. Only Mallows has that charismatic dignity. “

Even though the ritual was over, the arguments around the mountain were getting very intense. People arguing while setting up vendor stalls or arguing while shopping could be found everywhere. Seeing the results of the ritual, Ye Cang was very pleased. Heading to the deepest part of the shrine, he inquired and learned that the goddesses had consumed a lot of godly power and had overdone it a bit. They were now essentially ill. Even though they had performed such a large scale blessing, it was still within an acceptable range. They only needed some time to rest and wait for the power of belief to consolidate.

Chapter 511: God-Like

Little Ye Tian distributed the shares of the other guilds. LordAsked, CloudDragon, and NalanPureSoul all received quite a bit. They looked at Little Ye Tian, very satisfied. That girl, at every weekly meeting, would calculate the dividends very precisely. She was a very reliable and extremely capable financial officer.

“While Farsarqi is not yet in the public’s sight, we should quickly establish our foundation there! Have D3 begin operations, start transporting goods and establish a goddess association branch.” With Little Ye Tian’s reminder, Ye Cang assembled everyone and once again set off to the west.

The two day weekend arrived. Having gone through a simple dress rehearsal the day before, everyone was now gathered at Old Wang’s for a meal. Their group attracted a tide of people. The east districts three legends gathered in one place. Zuo Yiyi was staring infatuated at Panty Uncle, then suddenly shook her head fiercely but was still blushing.

“Nana, why hasn’t your popularity changed?” Flasher Uncle pouted as he looked at Wu Na’s band’s fame on his tablet.

Whose fault is that!? It’s all because of you! Panty Uncle! Damn Ye Cang! Completely taking all the limelight! Even the background announcer Lin Le became a celebrity! Wu Na heard the words of Flasher Uncle, who hadn’t even thought of it from her perspective and she roared in her head. She then glared at him. This time I will definitely show my best performance!

Panty Uncle smiled gracefully and raised his glass, “Let’s have a toast.”

Everyone toasted and drained their cups.

Panty Uncle looked at Zuo Yiyi and smiled mysteriously, “Miss Yiyi, you have good taste. A wild camouflage pattern. It’s even made by a european master, Camo.”

Zuo Yiyi's charming face reddened again. She had felt a cool breeze for a moment, but it was really only for a moment. It was even hard to feel. Her own fame wasn't any lower than theirs, she didn't know why she found it hard to lift her head around Panty Uncle. She shyly said, “I've let you see something unseemly.”

“Flasher Uncle, I heard that Lin Hai's tourism office is planning to make a holiday after you.” Zhang ZhengXiong recalled the news he had heard in the morning.

“Oh, I've called to ask about it. The application is already there, but it will only come to effect after I die.” Flasher Uncle drank some soup and nodded.

“Tsk, how improper. He is just a crazy, shameless exhibitionist.” Panty Uncle scolded.

“Better than a panty fetish pervert.” Flasher Uncle retaliated.

Hello, neither of you have the qualification to call anyone a pervert. Wu Na, FrozenCloud, and the others broke out in cold sweat.

Fang Tong ran over to Flasher Uncle and smiled, “Uncle Flasher, I heard that touching your thingy gives health and luck blessings. And I'll grow tall and pretty... Can I touch it?”

Wu Na, FrozenCloud, SpyingBlade, Zuo Yiyi and Fang Ci broke out in cold sweat, once more. Hey, is that thing a consecrated treasure now?! Well, he's nearly a godly existence. They imagined the scene of a little girl touching his thingy and just as it was about to actually happen, Fang Ci quickly pulled his little sister back, saying ashamed, “Flasher Uncle, my little sister is ignorant. It's just the ramblings of a child...”

“It's fine...” Flasher Uncle smiled and shook his head. He then became depressed, on the edge of mentally falling apart, “I suddenly feel bad. Now even a little kid isn't scared of my thingy. I want screams. Frightened voices. It seems like it's really gone forever and never coming back.”

Everyone rolled their eyes. So that's what you felt bad it.

“Big brother, I want to touch his thingy. It's a health charm. Tongtong wants to grow up...” Fang Tong made a rare pout and said with determination. This made things difficult for Fang Ci. He could only smile stiffly.

Flasher Uncle became even more depressed. He slumped into his chair, disappointed. Looking up into the night sky, he muttered, “My thingy has been reduced to some auspicious object people pray to. A symbol of health...”

Flasher Uncle stood up. With a wave of his trenchcoat, his battle-ready elephant roared. Zuo Yiyi gaped. What startled her wasn't his elephant but the surrounding people in prayer, as if they were paying respect to a buddha.

Fang Ci trembled when he saw Fang Tong's little hand touch the thingy. She then closed her eyes and moaned, “So warm...”

Fang Ci trembled with his hand on his forehead, unable to look at the sight. Ye Cang stroked his chin and said calmly, “Such a touching scene...”

FrozenCloud, Wu Na, and SpyingBlade all couldn't help but turn away from the scene. They looked at Ye Cang and roared at him in their minds. Then they turned back and saw the surrounding crowd watching with a jealous expression. Feeling that the rumours must be true, Lin Le also reached out and touched it. “Everyone come pray for Little Tong.”

“Alright.” Ye Cang took the lead to reach out and directly touch it. Zhang ZhengXiong followed after him. Zuo Yiyi touched it with trembling hands, then suddenly felt a feeling of safety from it. It completely swept away any worry she felt for tomorrow. A very comforting warmth flowed into her heart.

Little Ye Tian touched it and investigated it while she was at it. There was a very powerful healing type spiritual power covering it. This must be a superpower that had arisen from Flasher Uncle's long years of effort. Powerful healing type powers were extremely rare. Not even one might appear among 10,000 espers.

Wu Na was indifferent about it. It wasn't her first time touching it; she had been ambushed by Flasher Uncle since her childhood. FrozenCloud was at a loss. She saw the look Ye Cang was giving her, so decided to touch it. Suddenly, her heart felt warm, as if she was being deeply healed. She felt a moan coming. SpyingBlade and Fang Ci both broke out in cold sweat. They saw that everyone else had a finger on the thingy. If they didn't touch it, they would feel left out, but if they did touch it... that was someone's third leg. Seeing everyone praying, they sighed; especially Fang Ci, since his little sister had already touched it, it would become weird if he didn't, even though having to touch it was already beyond weird. The one who struggled the most was Panty Uncle. Taking off his black glove, he poked it with an index finger. Feeling the warm current, he looked at the thingy with a strange expression. This pervert even developed a super power on his member.

Old Wang quickly took out a camera and took a picture of everyone touching Flasher Uncle's thingy. Then he congratulated everyone on their success tomorrow.

At that time, a young boy with a fever appeared. He had been feverish for a long time without stop. His mother was carrying him to the hospital when she passed by the night market and saw this scene of everyone prayer for their health. She ran up to the security team and begged, "Flasher Uncle! I beg of you, please let Duoduo touch it! Bless his health!! Please!!"

"Let her in." Flasher Uncle saw that it was a haggard mother carrying a feverish child and nodded. The child's mother put him down. In a daze, the young boy touched Flasher Uncle's thingy, then immediately, the feverish red of his cheeks receded like a tide, regaining their healthy colour. His mind also cleared up. His mother touched his forehead. The fever had immediately gone away! Not even medicine was effective! A fever that required a hospital to cure was healed with one touch of this holy object. She was unable to restrain her emotions and shouted, “God!!”

The crowd all looked at each other. Finally they all bowed down like a wave. Men and women alike stared red eyed at Flasher Uncle’s thingy.

“God! God!!”

“Please let me touch! I caught a cold last night!!”

“I have a monthly test! Flasher Uncle, please let me touch and borrow some of your godly blessings!”

“My girlfriend wants to break up with me! Flasher Uncle! Please make her change her mind!!”

“Me and A’Feng have known each other for three years but he still doesn’t understand my feelings. I’m planning to confess to him tonight! Flasher Uncle! Please bless me with the courage to confess!!”

Fang Ci, SpyingBlade, Wu Na and FrozenCloud all gaped. It really could grant health! Looking at the devout crowd, making various strange prayers, they all facepalmed.
